

BEVERLY HILLS SHOPPING

As the ultimate upscale shopping destination, Beverly Hills houses the world's most sought-after labels, sprinkled up and down iconic Rodeo Drive and beyond. The Golden Triangle, bound by Santa Monica Boulevard, Wilshire Boulevard and Rexford Drive, boasts one of the most glamorous retail districts in the world, filled with jewelers and international fashion designer boutiques and flagship stores.

RODEO DRIVE

Rodeo Drive maintains its reputation as a destination synonymous with luxurious, world-class shopping, thanks to stores from timeless marques like Tiffany & Co., Prada, Gucci, Valentino and more. The street also includes the quality craftsmanship of Goyard and Coach leather goods and the opulent sparkle and shimmer of Cartier. Two Rodeo Drive, the Golden Triangle's central landmark, unfolds along a European-style cobblestone street creating an elegant environment to browse the likes of Versace, Jimmy Choo and Lanvin. Those with a taste for the private shopping experience can enjoy personalized service at Tiffany & Co.'s third floor private salon, and the House of Bijan's legendary by-appointment-only showroom. At Louis Vuitton's Beverly Hills flagship, "VICs" (Very Important Clients) are welcomed into a sitting room and outdoor patio to sip champagne as they shop, while the Burberry Penthouse and Saint Laurent VIP suite give high spenders access to terraces with sweeping views of the shopping mecca.

BOUTIQUE

Dotted throughout The Golden Triangle, chic and sophisticated boutiques add another layer of opulence to the Beverly Hills shopping experience, showcasing distinct luxury products and trend-setting styles.

Establishments such as AllSaints and maje attract shoppers looking for one-of-a-kind pieces and innovative designs. Additional boutique shops include COS and Scotch & Soda. Visitors can now shop women's bohemian clothing with a Parisian flair at ba&sh on Beverly Drive, the world's finest lingerie and loungewear at HANRO of Switzerland or luxurious scents at The House of Creed, which offers privately owned fragrances that have been producing these fragrances for over six generations.

DEPARTMENT STORE TITANS

Running along Wilshire Boulevard, culminates retail titans known for hosting the finest designer brands throughout elegant and sprawling shopping palaces. From men's and women's clothing to designer fragrances, shoes and handbags, Saks Fifth Avenue and Neiman Marcus offer an all-encompassing destination for opulent shopping.
